Perspective offers school administrators an efficient and integrated tool to monitor student success.

Perspective's tracking charts provide a quick overview of the performance of any given class at any given time, making automatic adjustments as the school board's database data is updated.

All steps inherent in successful school improvement are readily handled with Perspective — a system that helps users develop and manage both their strategic plans and their school success plans.

Perspective makes it easy to ascertain whether the measures that a school or organization has implemented to ensure student success have indeed been effective. Such measures might include a better understanding of the local school environment, a concerted focus on best teaching and organizational practices or on the quality of life in a school or organization.

Intended clientele

- School board administrators
- School administrators
- School success-plan designers

Main features

Perspective simplifies the process of monitoring organization improvement, success plans and strategic plans.

Perspective allows users to:

- Create a portrait of the initial situation using data already available in GPI and TOSCA
- Develop orientations and goals for their specific organization
- Incorporate key components of their strategic plan
- Choose or create indicators related to defined goals
- Set reference points and customize the way results are displayed
- Gather and analyze results
- Produce various reports

Perspective is an effective management tool to:

- Customize tracking charts
- Gather and record results
- Process and break down data according to user-defined variables
- Effect longitudinal studies of results (history option)

Tracking Charts (Balance Sheet)

Perspective tracking charts allow administrators to:

- create summaries of results by grouping data
- generate automatic updated overviews of any school's performance
- data mine in the school or school board's data banks (GPI, TOSCA)
- produce specific balance sheets (performance, failures, absences, etc.) by grade level, subject, group, etc.
- save time by zeroing in on specific achievements or areas of concern
